Fallow buck - world class trophies for speciality lovers

There is nothing like the October Gyulaj fallow deer rut. The main hunting season is in October but many hunters choose the exciting winter stalkings and high seat hunts as well.

The buck's unique trophy has a special shape, called palms or antlers. Because of this unique feature and the special way of hunting, fallow deers are among many international trophy collectors' favourites.

A trophy can be categorized as nice and big above 4kg trophy weight. The really big ones can achieve the mighty 5kg category.

The traditional way of hunting for fallow deers is the really exciting stalking or high seat hunt, but the female fallow deers can be harvested during winter driven hunts as well. Beside the fallow bucks we provide opportunity for taking female fallow deers in individual hunt as well.

When international hunters discuss European big game, they all mention the unique experience of fallow buck hunting. The Hungarian fallow deer antlers make up 60% of the first 50 fallow buck trophies on the present CIC trophy world rank list and without exaggerating the Gyulaj and the neighboring Tamasi forests are Hungary's as well as Central Europe's fallow deer 'paradise'. The world wide known Gyulaj Hunting Ground can provide unforgettable hunting memories with its hundreds of excellent fallow bucks and picturesque hunting lodges. This wonderful hunting ground gave 5 CIC world record fallow buck trophies to the world already. The first was taken in 1923 as a beautiful result of the professional local and traditional wildlife management of centuries. The 17th century „Ozora-Gyulaj” ultimate hunts became world wide known among the era's noble families and politicians. Grandiose driven hunts were organized by the Esterhazy-family (counts of the royal court) with employing more than 12.000 local people during these hunt. In the '60s Gyulaj became one of the favourites of the Eastern world's high ranking politicians and business men.

Red stag - king of forests, dream of kings

The ultimate and symbolic big game of the European hunting culture. The stag's multi-points trophy is one of the most beloved and wanted trophy all over the world. The European traditional measurement is based on the weight of trophies. The more points and heavier weight the nicer and more unique trophy with more CIC points. The trophy can be categorized as nice and big from 8-9 kg. The really big ones can be classified in the mighty 10-12 kg category.

In the 2005 season Hungary's heaviest antlers was taken on Gyulaj Zrt's hunting ground. In 2010 the heaviest antlers at Gyulaj Zrt achieved an outstanding 13,46kg trophy weight.

The official season starts at September 1. The main rutting season is in the middle of September, but the exciting winter stalking and high seat hunts for stags and hinds/calves can also be a really fun option. The female deers are shootable in the winter driven hunts as well.

There is no doubt about the fact that the red stag is the real king of European forests. Its traditional hunting method is the most authentic way of individual hunting since appearance of modern firearms. Many European royal families revered the hunting of red deers. The first Hungarian CIC world record in 1891 was taken in the same county (Tolna county) where Gyulaj Plc. manages the wildlife and forest lands. This county and area is perfect habitat for red deers. The stag's deep, unique rutting voice makes every real hunter's heart beat faster each September. If someone hears that voice he is never going to forget it.

The local red deer management has deep roots in the soil of history. The first internationally known hunting result of the century- old local red deer management was the legendary 1930 „Hőgyész - Hungarian Ox” taken on Hőgyész Hunting Ground of Gyulaj Zrt. The local people named this huge stag this way, because its extremely wide spread antlers and heavy weight. That trophy proved to Europe that the ultimate hunting ground for big stags is located in South-West Hungary.

We know the hunting experience does not only depend on the trophy excellence. Most of our clients get home with average 6-7 kg trophies but with unforgettable hunting memories. The professionalism, enthusiasm and hospitality of our guides and lodge staff always adds up to achieve the best experience and memories.

Wild boar - a passion with no limits

The length of the lower tusks determine the excellence of the trophy. The longer the tusk and the bigger the mean circumference are the more rare and excellent trophy is.

A tusk can be categorized as nice trophy above 20-21cm length. The most beautiful wild boar trophies of Gyulaj Zrt can achieve the mighty 25-27 cm category.

In Hungary the tuskers (male wild boars) are shootable all year long with no limitation. The main hunting season for driven wild boar hunts is from November to February.

Wild boar lives the most hidden lifestyle among all the Central- European big game species. Hunting for wild boars was always something mystical in the past and it still is. Hundreds of European hunters look forward to their favourite group hunting method, the winter driven hunts. Dozens of professional beaters and dogs drive the boars out of their shelters toward the hunters. To aim at and then successfully shoot the suprisingly fast moving boars is one of the most exciting hunting methods in the world. All the 4 hunting grounds of Gyulaj Zrt provide excellent natural habitat for the wild boar. Our free range (no fence) hunting territories and the fenced areas designed specially for winter driven hunts can provide opportunity to harvest up to 100-150 wild boars in one day. The most succesfull driven hunts are organized for 7-10 hunters in a 2-3 days group hunting.

On our hunting grounds the female red and fallow deers are also shootable on driven hunts.

Besides the group hunting the individual hunting methods (stalking or high seat hunts) also provide great hunting experiences for our clients.

Roe buck - ordinary trophies with extraordinary experiences

The weight of the antlers determines the excellence of the trophy. The heavier antlers mean the more excellent trophies.

On Gyulaj Zrt's hunting grounds a roe buck trophy can be categorized as nice trophy above 300g. The most beautiful trophies of Gyulaj Zrt may achieve the 400-450g category.

In Hungary the roe bucks are shootable from April 15 to September 30. The main hunting season for them is in the summer. The traditional hunting methods for the bucks are the exciting stalking or high seat hunts.

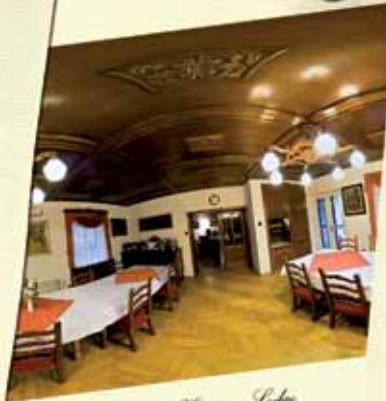

We know that roe buck hunting is something different. Many foreign and Hungarian roe buck hunters get really excited when the beloved buck season starts in mid-April. As part of the preparation for this our professional guides and gamekeepers go to the woods and fields every day to look for and observe the right buck for the enthusiasts who book for a roe buck on our hunting grounds. We do it because we understand their euphoria as we are also infected with this passion. In the season our guides work for the goal that our guests could go home full of exciting experiences and with the right buck trophy that suits their requirements.

We are proud that every year our foreign and local guest hunters can bag some outstanding bucks as well- even if our South-West Hungarian hunting grounds are better known as typical fallow deer, red deer and wild boar territories.

Because of our diverse hunting grounds every hunter can find the right buck - both the hilly, forest covered landscape lovers and the lowland agricultural field lovers.
